WILD AT HEART

The 1991-92 school year had begun. It was a happy time; a sad time; a time to get back into the swing of things; to become reacquainted with familiar faces; and adjust to the homework assignments, in which the teachers did not hesitate at all to give. The first week of school went by slowly, and two days seemed like two weeks, but everyone was ready for the Welcome Back Dance, on Saturday. The dance, on the tennis courts, had a great turnout. Lots of people had fun, dancing and jumping around in the bubbles. By the end, everyone was exhausted, and the next day some of the senior girls were complaining about how much their hips hurt. Next, came the anunual Fall Festival, where the motto, "Rain rain go away, but if you don't, that's okay, we'll have fun anyway," fits perfectly. Yes, the Fall Festival was moved indoors, after everyone was soaked with rain, but this only proved that nothing could dampen the U-High spirit.

That was only the beginning, and a definite sign of the wild times that were soon to come throughout the year.

There were many great memories created during the 1991-92 school year. Excelling in all activities seemed to be contagious after the golf team placed first in the state. All of these achievements were made possible by the University High School student body. They were the ones who became involved. Who, through their motivation to excel and succeed, established an atmosphere full of energy and enthusiasm. It really did shine through. They were the ones who were going to make the activities successful. They were the ones who played on the winning teams, and who supported those teams all the way. Together they generated excitement, with the attitude to have fun and to succeed. It was the attitude of being wild at heart. No matter what happens, the students at U-High proved this past school year that they will always be Wild at Heart.

...WELCOME BACK 1991...

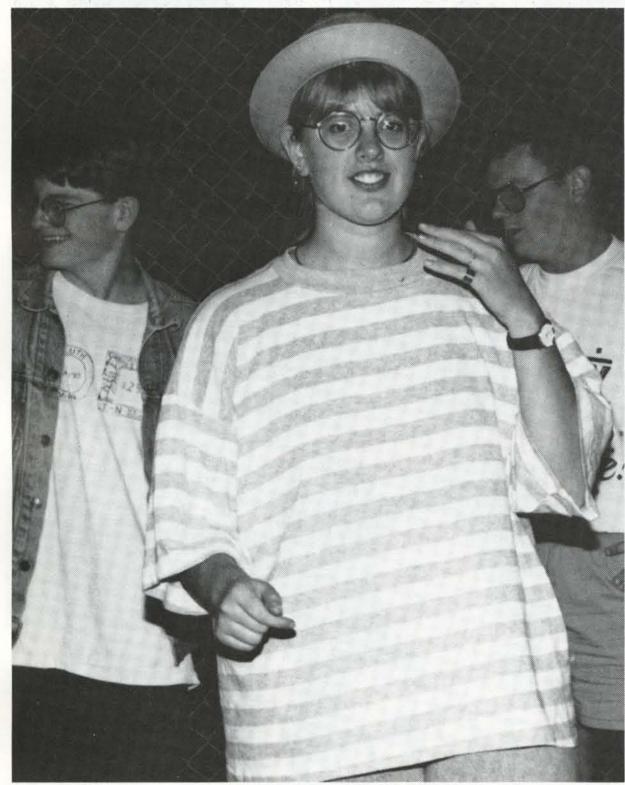

Coming back to school after a three month vacation was hard, but to many U-High students the "Welcome Back" activities made it just a little bit easier.

Mimi Austenson thought of "Bubbles, music, friends and fun," when asked about the Welcome Back Dance and Sarah Bray was all smiles when she remembered the softball game in the rain at the Fall Festival.

Both the Welcome Back Dance and the Fall Festival have become traditions at U-High. Students are greeted year after year by wild music, cake walks and Mr. Briggs on the microphone, and who could forget the Scotty Award given to the class with the most points from the games held throughout the day? (Next year the trophy will be up for grabs as the class of 1992, the winners for the past four years, graduate.)

Every year students groan at getting up early and complain about doing homework but, deep down inside they truly enjoy the excitement that a new school year brings.

Haunted Halloween

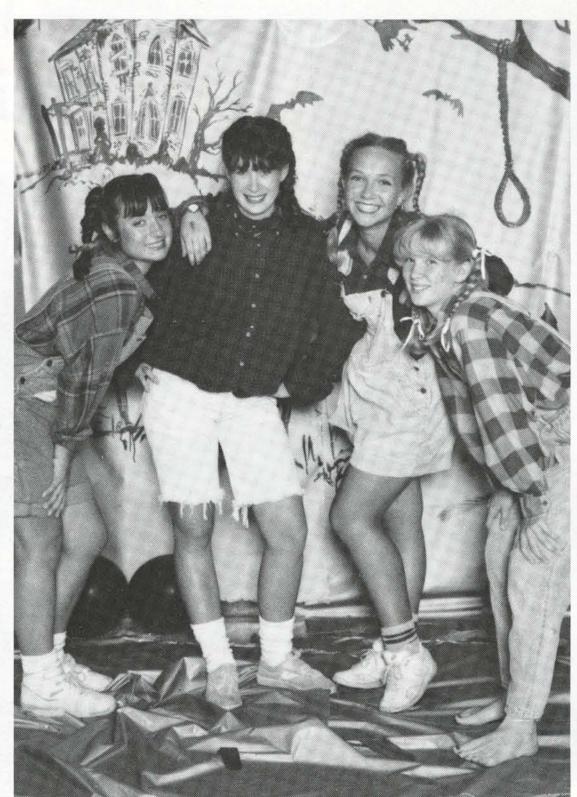

Ghosts, goblins, and gangsters were abundant at this years Halloween dance. Students flocked to the dance in wild and wacky costumes, ranging from risque playboy bunnies to sweet, innocent farm girls. (Impersonations were also popular.) Of course there were a few students who were too cool to dress up but, everyone together made the evening fun.

Students were able to show off their creativity and get into the dance a little cheaper by wearing costumes. Student Senate sponsored a costume contest. Prizes were awarded for categories such as The Best Costume from each class, the Best Group and the Scariest costume. The Pink Ladies, Katie Naylor, Christi Bratcher, Renee Cicciu, and Deanika Stone, won the Best Group Costume award. The King, a.k.a. Kara VanKirk, stole the show with the Best Costume overall.

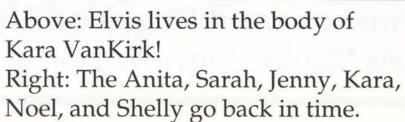

After the dance all of the students went home and put their costumes away until Halloween.

Although the Illinois State Basketball Association and the community viewed the Pioneers' spirit as poor, the U-High students felt that they were bursting with spirit. From "The Champion" cheer to the "Show Them Our Spirit Cheer," the student body supported their teams the only way they knew how, with wild n' wacky fun.

The Pioneer fans had a lot to cheer about this year with many outstanding state qualifying teams. In their own way the fans were champions too for their support of U-High and the teams and organizations within it.

Wonderful Tonight Prom 1992

The night was cool and clear; The car was washed; The dinner reservations were made; The dresses and tuxes were hanging in the closet ready to be worn; It was prom night 1992.

On May 2nd, the Scottish Rite Temple was decorated with red, black and silver balloons and cascading streamers. The juniors moved the prom unexpectedly from the Miller Park Pavillion just weeks before prom due a communication glich reserving the pavillion for the wrong date.

Despite the last minute hussle the evening was a success and all went home with fond memories of prom 1992.

After Prom 1992

In keeping with tradition, the junior class parents held an after prom party for students to keep them out of trouble during the early hours after prom. This years party was held at the newly opened Ride the Nine. Students played pool, darts, and black jack in order to win play money which they later used to bet on numerous prizes donated from busineses throughout the community.

Students headed home safely at four a.m. with high spirts and free gifts as a reminder of the fun time they had.

Golf Drives To A State Championship

The boys golf team did what no other sport has ever done at U-High. They won a state championship! Under the direction of vetern coach Jim Scott and led by seniors Brady Knight, Cory Legner, and John Handy, the Pioneers out-shot Kankakee Bishop-MacNamara for a 27 stroke victory.

On the road to state, the team suffered only one loss to finish the season with an 18-1 record. The team entered the regional and was expected to win, but came in with a second place finish. U-High and seniors Knight, Handy, and junior Chad Allen qualified for sectional play. Pioneers came out strong defeating second place Rochester for the first place trophy. Knight was the lone Pioneer out of sectionals and tied for 12th in the state tourney.

The team finished first in the Conference and they also won the Intercity Title. The junior varsity finished with an 11-2 record.

After a heartbreaking loss in the season opener to third-ranked Monmouth, the Pioneer football team never did put things together. Injuries to key players and inexperience changed what could have been a championship season into a less than perfect 3-6 record. The teams season mark does not truly reflect the pride and heart with which they played. Aaron Adams gained Most Valuable Player honors, while Rich Corry was Most Improved. Stephen Wilson won the outstanding linesmen award and was voted second team guard and linebacker in the conference. Corey Christenson got first team running back honors.

The sophomore football team finished with an outstanding 7-1 record and a first place finish in the conference. The freshman squad finished with a respectable 6-2-1 record.

Setting Up A Winning Season

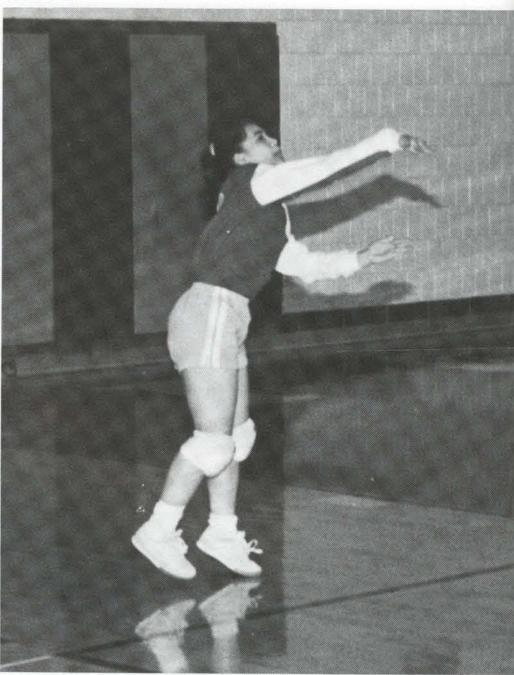

The Pioneer Spikers bumped their way to an 18-9 record this season. With the leadership of only two seniors, Jody Shepard and Mai Quach, the sophomores and juniors were able to pick up the slack for a successful season.

The team participated in the Coal City Tournament and captured third place and were second in the Intercity Tournament. The team ended the season with a heartbreaking loss to Eureka in the first game of regionals, after beating them ealier in the season.

Leading this years team was MVP and 1st Team All-Conference selection Jody Shepard and sophomore Yen Quach who was selected to 2nd Team All-Conference.

The JV team finished with a 6-14 record, while the Frosh squad finished with a 4-6 mark.

This years soccer team under the direction of veteran coach Dr. Bodo Fritzen finished with a decieving mark of 8-10-1. The team got off to a slow start before winning their first match. 2nd In State U-High Cagers Make History

For the first time since 1918 the Pioneers reached the state finals. Unfortunatly they ended their seasons one victory short as they were state runner-ups.

After a very slow 0-2 start this years team made a quick change. Not only in the way they played, but also in their appereance. The team finish the season 29-4. The Corn Belt Conference Co-Champions defeated intercity rival Central Catholic for the Illinois State Classic title. They also beat the Saints with a dominating defensive effort in the Regional final. In the Sectional championship, U-High faced off against Flanagan for a battle of state ranked teams. U-High came out on top again to move on to the Super-Sectional rematch with Clifton Central. Again the Pioneers were victorious with a convincing 57-35 win to place them among the states "elite".

In the first game of the State Tournament, the Pioneers smothered Sherrard with their aggressive defense. U-High scored 55 points compared to Sherrard's season low 34 points. The Pioneers next victim was the previously undefeated top-ranked team from Augusta Southeastern by a decision of 63-50. In the State Championship game of the tournament, the Pioneers ended a little short with a 61-45 loss to Findlay. The team played hard and exceeded the expectations of many and were really the "Champions."

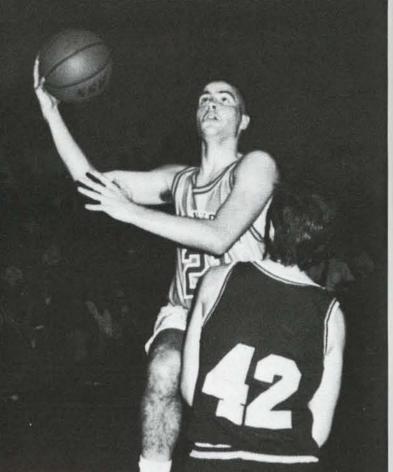

The sophomore team ended the season with a 20-1 record. Their only loss was from Bloomington, 66-56. The freshmen were 10-10.

Senior Brunch

A Time to Remember

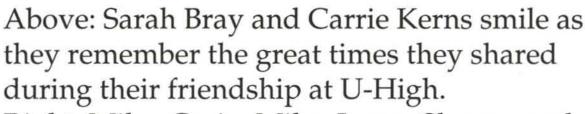

This years senior brunch took place the Friday after class night in the Bone Student Center. Senior brunch started off with the history of class. The recap, gave the class of 1992 a chance to look back one last time and remember the good and bad times that they had shared.

The class prophecies which came next gave the seniors a glimpse of what they were to become in the future. A few of the prophecies will never be forgotten; Eric Brown will become a bell ringer at the Vatican; Chip Terhorst will replace the energizer bunny, because he keeps going and going and...; And all of the teachers become administrators.

After everyone had finished their lunch the class awards which were voted on by the senior class, were handed out. Chris Naylor was unanimously voted class clown; Nicole Johnson had the best police record; Aaron Adams and Jenny Katz where the cutest couple while Park Allison and Marisa Ciccu made up the oddest; And Nate Livingston ran away with the best body award.

Senior brunch provided the class of 1992 a chance to be together one last time before graduating. It also provided them with a chance to look back and laugh at all that they had been through in the past, and to look ahead at what was to come.

JOURNALISM

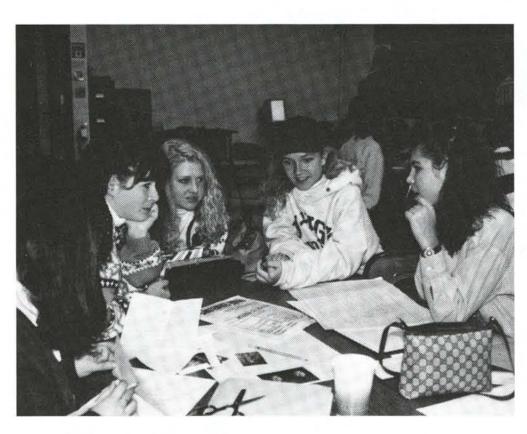

Journalism consists of two unique staffs, the Clarion (yearbook) and Clarionette (newspaper). This year's Clarionette staff, led by editor Shane Luitjens, succeeded in their goal of getting an issue out once a month. Sarah Bray, editor of the Clarion, along with the staff helped to meet stressful deadlines and produce the 1992 yearbook. These goals were set by this year's new advisor, Mr. Kelly, a former teacher at St. Mary's Junior High School. The journalism staff worked hard throughout the year hoping to leave a lasting impression on this year's students.

BAND

This year's band had the experience of a new director, Mr. Toovey, former band director of Pekin High School. His job required directing all of U-High's bands, marching, pep, and concert, and the guard.

The responsibilities of being in marching band include performing at all home football games, area parades, and competitions. The guard ads a color visual to the band and helps to act out their music. During Christmas break both the band and guard performed at the Citrus Bowl in Florida. This has been the biggest bowl the school has been invited to play at. While in Florida they enjoyed participating in an evening parade at Epcot Center. The band has also won awards from nearby competitions including a second at ISU Band day. The guard also recieved three first place awards from the ISU, Olympia, and Washington competitions. The percussion section recieved a first place award at each of the Metamora, Olympia, and Wesleyan parades.

Although Marching band is considered to be the "tough" part of band it is compensated for in the "fun" Pep band. The main responsibility of the pep band is to play at Basketball games, pep assemblies, and othe sports activities. As they pump up the crowds at these activities, Basketball Poms bring everything together by performing in hoping to arouse the crowd. This years Basketball Pom Squad Travelled to four competitions; it was also their third consecutive apperance at state.

The final segement of band, Concert Band, concentrates on a wide variety of serious music. They preform at three concerts including one at Christmas time, one in late winter, and one in the spring.

CHORUS / MADRIGALS SWING CHOIRS

Chorus is an academic class in which students can learn and grow in their musical understanding and knowledge of choral music. It contains two groups, Mixed Chorus and Concert Choir, which meet at noon and 1:00 each day. The Mixed Chorus is open to everyone, while Concert Choir requires teacher approval to participate. Together the choirs performed six concerts throughout the year including an exchange concert with Uni-High, the lab school at U of I.

Madrigal Singers and Court Singers are extracurricular activities that give students the opportunity to perform music from the Renaissance period in the traditional costumes and settings of a Madrigal Dinner. This year's participants celebrated their fifth annual Madrigal Dinner with the performance of "The French Are Coming", an original script written by senior Jules Graybill. They also hosted a Madrigal festival where seventeen madrigal groups from Illinios, along with the I.S.U. Madrigals, performed.

The Vocal Jazz groups are also extracurricular activities giving students the experience of performing jazz, a true form of American music. This year's groups included a girls jazz choir, mixed jazz choir, and the first ever jazz quartet. The singers participated in various concerts and in vocal jazz festivals at Millikin University and I.S.U.

The fall play, The Mouse that Roared, a comedy about a small country going to war with the U.S. (without the U.S. knowing). The one act plays, directed by ISU students, were held in November, I ought to be in Pictures and The Lesson. People who were involved with group interpretation, Waiting for the Parade (where no costumes or makeup is allowed, and they read directly from scripts) recieved 6th at the IHSA sectionals and the contest play, The Actors Nightmare recived 5th. The drama season ended with the spring play, Do Black Leather Shoes Really Reflect up, a musical comedy about kids growing up in a Cathloic school.

This years drama accomplished a variety of goals, but the main goal was the involvement of people. Freshman to seniors worked as a group trying to make this year something to remember.

Class Night 1992 A Tradition That Will Last?

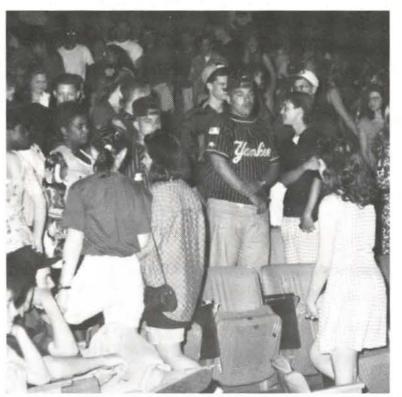

It came down to the wire. Changes had to be made to the senior skits or their would be no class night. The administration, faculty and alumni felt that the serious traditions of class night were being muddled with outlandish behavior by the students and to much emphasis was being put on the senior skits that were demeaning and inappropriate.

But, the seniors prevailed, class night would be held. The evening started out against the alum's wishes with a senior band The JTMF. The music was loud and the crowd was wild. The senior skits were a hit, add libs and all. After the skits the serious part of class night began, almost. Despite a sound problem and the seniors inability to figure out where it was they were to go the seniors closed out their U-High career with a sentimental slide show and class song.

Tom Hornkamp passed the lamp of knowledge on to the incoming senior class President Prethi Seethi; The class of 1987 scholarship was awarded to Sarah Bray; The senior class gift, a message board for the lounge was awarded and it was time for the moving up of the classes ritual.

Memories Last Forever

Graduation is an end and a beginning. As the seniors leave the auditorium for the last time, they say goodbye to the last four years of carefree fun , but a new life awaits them as they enter college or work. University High School has prepared them for the next stage of life and though they will never forget their high school memories, it is time to move on.

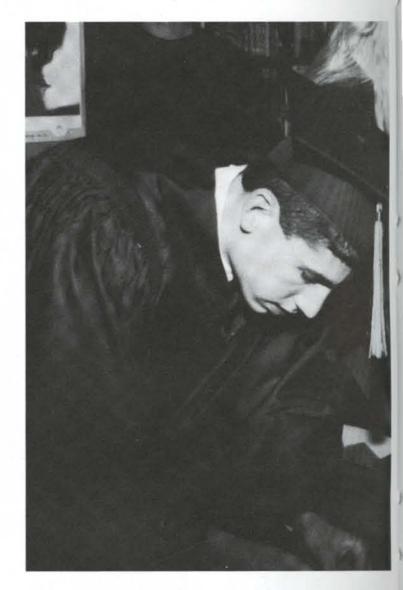

The valedictorians for the class of 1992 included Kyle Anderson, Daci Jett, Vinoo Kottoor, Cynthia Jones, and Anna Treadway. Salutatorian was Shanna Achord. Student speakers at graduation were Shanna Achord, Sarah Bray, Larry Pontius, and Vinoo Kottoor.
